'Baby' Nuclear Device Set Off On Yucca Flat

Blast Produces Relatively Small Puffball Of Cloud

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., June 2 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission detonated a "baby" nuclear device from a 300-foot tower on Yucca Flat at 4:55 a.m. today. The fireball was of short duration and did not touch the ground.

The blast caused formation of a relatively nonspectacular puffball of a cloud.

Observers speculated the shot, one of the smallest of the 47 touched off here, had a yield of between two and five kilotons. A kiloton is the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT.

The cloud rose to less than 20,000 feet, then moved off west of due north at a very slow rate of speed. The typical mushroom shape held only for an instant before it became a fluffy, shapeless mass.

Relatively Light Fall-Out

A spokesman for the test organization estimated there was little debris in the cloud although the test tower, as usual, disintegrated, except for stubby remnants of the legs. He added: "There should be only minor fall-out at any point outside the test site."

An AEC summary issued six hours after the shot said "There was only relatively light fall-out on the test site and no contamination of adjacent test areas. As a result there will be no delay in preparing for future shots."

A couple of sharp cracks were heard at the control point, about eight miles away and rumbles and bangs were heard at Inyokern and Bishop in California. The test was seen but not heard in Las Vegas, Nev., some 80 miles northwest of here.

Blimp Jarred Loose

At least 20 military and civil effects experiments were held in conjunction with the shot—second in the 1957 series. A blimp from the Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station was moored at a regular mooring mast an undisclosed distance from the tower.

The shock wave jerked it loose from the main nose mooring but otherwise there was no apparent visible damage. The craft was not manned. Flares were set off so cameras could record the effects on the blimp.

Twenty-one support and crew indoctrination planes hovered in the air several miles away and approximately 250 armed forces observers were stationed at an area eight miles from ground zero.

Soviets Extend Hand To Tito

MOSCOW, June 2 (AP)—The Soviet press, with one voice, urged today that the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia kiss and make up again.

The occasion was the second anniversary of the Soviet-Yugoslav declaration signed in Belgrade in 1955, when Nikita Khrushchev went there to put an end to seven years of bitter hostility initiated by the late Joseph Stalin. The Khrushchev-Tito rapprochement lasted only until October 1956, when events in Poland and Hungary resulted in a period of bickering.

Every official paper in Moscow marked the day with lengthy articles calling for closer Soviet-Yugoslav relations.

"The quarrels which have disrupted the friendly relations between the U.S.S.R. and Yugoslavia from time to time only serve the interests of imperialist forces," said Pravda.

The Communist party organ said the main Soviet-Yugoslav differences lie in the ideological field. There is no reason why the two nations should not concentrate on their areas of agreement, rather than on the issues which divide them.

Daring Pilot Sets Balloon Altitude Mark

Air Force Officer Soars 96,000 Feet In Metal Capsule

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn., June 2 (AP)—A giant plastic balloon carrying a young Air Force officer in a tiny metal capsule soared 96,000 feet over southern Minnesota today, setting a new altitude record for manned higher-than-air flight.

Capt. J. W. Kittinger Jr., 28, remained at the more than 18-mile height for about two hours before he was directed to "valve off" the helium in the balloon and return to earth.

The huge bag and its suspended capsule came to rest six hours and 34 minutes after the 6:25 a.m. takeoff, landing in a small creek near Weaver, Minn., about 80 miles southeast of here.

Kittinger was reported in good condition and Maj. J. W. McCurdy, information officer for the Man-High project, said delicate equipment was salvageable.

Endurance Test Planned

The red-haired test pilot was taken to the Minneapolis Veterans Administration Hospital for exhaustive tests of a physical and psychological nature.

The flight was carried out as part of a series of tests of man's ability to endure at high altitudes. Another Air Force officer, Maj. David G. Simons, a native of Lancaster, Pa., is scheduled to make a 24-hour endurance test at altitudes over 100,000 feet later this month.

The tests are being carried out by the Holloman Air Development Center at Alamogordo, N.M., to which Kittinger, a native of Tampa, Fla., is attached.

Old Record 76,000 Feet

Kittinger's flight bettered by nearly four miles the old manned-balloon mark of 76,000 feet set last November over Rapid City, S.D., by two Navy commanders.

Today's flight, from Fleming Airfield on the outskirts of South St. Paul, was scheduled to last most of the day, but was shortened because of technical difficulty.

McCurdy said Kittinger's voice radio transmitter failed on the way up because of antenna trouble. He said the daring pilot could send code messages, but it was decided to bring him back to earth ahead of schedule.

He said, however, that the balloon would go no higher than 96,000 feet.

Alcorn Denies Any GOP Split

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Meade Alcorn, GOP national chairman, said tonight there is no split in the Republican party but only "wholesome differences of opinion."

These differences, he said, "will ultimately result in a stronger party and a better Republican program, particularly if we can get a Republican Congress in 1958."

Alcorn, in an NBC-TV radio interview—"Meet the Press"—gave that assessment of six Republican regional conferences held recently which will be reviewed by party leaders this week.

Asked if he didn't find a split among Republicans over the size of President Eisenhower's budget, Alcorn said there were some places where the question was acute and others where it wasn't. But he added that "not in one instance did a Republican leader say a seat in Congress would be lost in 1958 because of the controversy over the budget."

The physicians accompanied the congressman in an automobile to the hospital and later diagnosed his illness as a possible heart ailment.

23 Speedsters Jailed Touring Cyclists Raise Havoc In Sierra Resort

ANGELS CAMP, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Daredevil elements among 3,700 touring motorcyclists brought the wild days of the gold rush back to this now sleepy mother lode town of 1,250 last night. They roared at breakneck speed along Main Street and littered the curbs with beer cans and bottles.

A hastily summoned posse, fearful of riotous disorders, arrested 23 cyclists and restored quiet among the speedsters whose "gypsy tour" already has cost three lives and sent 23 spilled riders to Mark Twain Hospital at San Andreas. One of the cyclists, Jerome Tovares, 20, of Santa Clara, died this morning.

Ellender Urges U. S. Study On Easing Red Trade Ban

British Step Applauded By Peiping

HONG KONG, June 2 (AP)—Red China today played up Britain's decision to ease the China trade embargo as a blow at the United States "policy of aggression."

Radio Peiping broadcast comment of the official Communist People's Daily and other state-controlled newspapers applauding the British move last Thursday.

This step, taken over American objections, scrapped many of the curbs which the Western Powers had maintained on commerce with Mao Tse-tung's people since the United Nations decided in 1951 that Red China was the aggressor in Korea.

"The Washington bosses were already fearing a chain reaction among other countries which would follow suit and no longer trail behind the United States," the People's Daily said.

'Friendship' Move

The British move, "though far from being a radical one to kill the U.S. embargo policy, helps bring about close East-West friendship and cooperation and promotes economic exchange," it added.

"The international situation is steadily tending toward relaxation. This is a current movement the United States could not check. Its adherence to a policy of aggression would lead only to greater setbacks."

There were other developments around the world.

Norway, which has decided to follow Britain's lead, looks to Red China as a market of some importance for Norwegian paper. A Foreign Office press officer, Rolf Jervig, said in Oslo today the decision will have no far-reaching effect on other Norwegian exports, which do not include much strategic goods.

Japan Seeks Mediation

The Japanese, worried about a possible split among the Western Powers and the threat of bold new British competition in the China trade, took steps to mediate.

Japan's acting prime minister, Mutsukiji Ishii, disclosed in Tokyo the Japanese ambassador in Paris is sounding out members of the 15-nation embargo group with a view of seeking a solution satisfactory to all. The embargo system was established in 1951 by Japan and all the NATO nations except Iceland.

N. Y. Rep. Powell Stricken During Church Service

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY) was stricken by an apparent heart attack today while preaching a sermon at the Abyssinian Baptist church in Harlem. He was taken to a hospital where his condition was reported later as "not serious."

The 48-year-old congressman is pastor of the church. During delivery of his sermon, Powell became ill and signaled to his assistant, the Rev. O. D. Dempsey. Powell cut short the sermon and Dempsey continued the service.

Powell left the altar and went to a side office. In the office he was assisted by Leon De Kalb, senior deacon of the church. After a brief conversation with Powell, the deacon called Powell's physicians, Dr. W. A. Freeman and Dr. Aaron Wells.

The physicians accompanied the congressman in an automobile to the hospital and later diagnosed his illness as a possible heart ailment.

Md. Police Trainee Accidentally Shot

TAKOMA PARK, Md., June 2 (AP)—Allen S. Frye, 26, Maryland State Police trainee, suffered a serious chest wound today when his service revolver fired while he was polishing it.

The accident occurred in Frye's Takoma Park home. He was taken to Washington Sanitarium where doctors said he had "less than a 50-50 chance" to live.

Frye joined the Maryland State Police Jan. 2 after three years on the Washington Metropolitan Police Force. He spent a month in training at Frederick, Md., and was transferred to Pikesville, Md. He is married and has two children.

Teller Outruns Bandit

Walter Tussey, 24, a bank teller in San Francisco, stands behind Roland Alles, an unemployed truck driver, following an $806 robbery of the bank. The young teller chased the armed bandit in a car for five blocks, then chased him afoot before pouncing on him from behind and capturing him.

Knowland Expects Senate To Restore Some Arms Funds

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today he expects the Senate to restore some of the 2½ billion dollars slashed from defense funds by the House.

But Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said in a separate interview that, "What the Senate does will depend on the evidence brought before it."

Johnson noted that President Eisenhower "cut 10 billion dollars off the services' requests and the House cut 2½ billions off the President's requests."

Public hearings on the Defense Department's money bill for the fiscal year starting July 1 will be resumed Tuesday before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee headed by Sen. Chavez (D-NM).

Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, and Wilfred J. McNeil, assistant secretary of defense for financial matters are listed as witnesses.

Chavez has predicted that the Senate group will restore any House reductions that "jeopardize the national security."

Before any decisions are reached, he said he will ask closed-door testimony for 10 days or two weeks on the hundreds of individual funds and items in the biggest of all annual money bills. As it passed the House, the measure carried 33½ billion dollars in new funds.

Johnson, who has kept the Senate in step with the House budget-cutting drive to date, said the Chavez subcommittee "will go over all the recommendations made to them and consider them in the light of what the national interest requires."

Both Knowland and Johnson declined to single out any service or item cut by the House that they expected the Senate to restore.

Army Officers' Sons Drowned

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 2 (AP)—Two 16-year-old boys, sons of an American general and a lieutenant colonel stationed in Copenhagen, drowned while boating on the Main River here, the Army reported today.

The youths were identified as Stoyte O. Ross Jr., son of Brig. Gen. S. O. Ross, chief of the military Assistance and Advisory Group in Copenhagen, and Frederick G. Oglesby, son of Lt. Col. Stuart R. Oglesby, also assigned to MAAG in Denmark.

Gen. Ross until recently commanded Bolling Air Force Base at Washington, D.C. His home is listed as Jacksonville, Fla.

Col. Oglesby's home town was given as Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Oglesby's parents were reported living in Sarasota, Fla.

The boys, boarding students at the Frankfurt high school for children of U.S. military personnel, were rowing on the Main when their boat got caught in the current below a waterfall flowing from a lock on the river, German police said.

The lock attendant told police both boys came to the surface after their boat upset and shouted for help but then disappeared in the turbulent water before anyone could reach them.

Lightning Kills Girl

PLAINFIELD, N.J., June 2 (AP)—A 13-year-old girl was killed by a bolt of lightning today while strolling through Greenbrook Park with several companions.

The victim was identified by police as Patricia O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Neill.

Japan Seen Stepping Up China Deals

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today the United States should consider lifting its total embargo on trade between this country and Red China.

Ellender said in an ABC-TV interview—"Celebrity Parade"—that the United States should make a "thorough study" of its position in view of Britain's announced intention to broaden her existing trade with the Chinese Reds.

If European countries are going to expand their trade with the Chinese mainland, he said, "it strikes me we might look into the feasibility of selling some of our nonstrategic materials" to the Chinese Reds.

Sens. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Cooper (R-Ky.), in a separate joint interview, told a reporter they believe Japan soon will follow Britain's lead in broadening commercial trade with the Reds.

They agreed, however, that the United States should continue its trade embargo.

Ellender said he "wouldn't be averse" to Japan stepping up trade with the Chinese mainland.

He added, in response to a question, that his position on the trade question does not mean he favors U.S. recognition of the Red Chinese.

"I wouldn't vote to recognize Red China under any conditions," he said, because such a step would mean the loss of Nationalist China and Formosa.

Ellender recently visited Russia and Formosa during a round-the-world trip.

Humphrey Favors Reappraisal

In another TV interview—NBC's "Youth Wants to Know"—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said this country should "re-examine our trade policies and possibly our political policies."

He added that he would not favor recognition of Red China until she makes "amends" to the United Nations, which branded her an aggressor in Korea.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, has called for a "new look" at U.S. policies in the light of Britain's decision to trade with the Communist Chinese on the same basis as with Russia and the satellite countries. He said this will be "one of the most pressing foreign problems in the months ahead."

Lost Hunter, 9, Is Found After All-Night Search

BRANSON, Mo., June 2 (AP)—A 9-year-old boy spent last night in rain and chill weather with only a long-sleeved shirt and his dog to keep him warm after he became lost on a squirrel-hunting trip.

Taney County Sheriff Theron Gideon led a group of searchers who had been out all night looking for the boy, Jimmy Earl Day.

He was found this morning. Jimmy had gone hunting about 4 p.m. yesterday with his younger brother, Jerry Day; a young cousin, Kenny Honeycutt, and the Days' dog, Speck.

They left from the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stafford, who live about 35 miles east of here.

About dark, Kenny and Jerry were found by searchers who had been called by the grandparents. The boys said they had been lost and that Jimmy thought his grandparents' home was in the opposite direction.

Display Of Faith Queen Will Make Flight In Jet With Tragic Past

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II is going up in a Comet Tuesday in a dramatic display of faith in the four-engine jet with a tragic past. She is making the flight at her own request.

The original Comet, with which Britain hoped to gain civil air supremacy, were grounded on commercial routes in 1954 after a series of disasters finally blamed on a weakness in the skin structure. Three disintegrated in flight and another burned out. All told, 110 persons died in the accidents.

Sir Geoffrey de Havilland, the designer, never gave up hope in the aircraft launched so proudly after World War II.

Khrushchev Appears On American TV

Party Leader Fails To Throw Further Light On Policies

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev, reigning boss of world communism, made his debut on United States television today. He predicted the grandchildren of his millions of American viewers "will live under socialism," but said the Soviet Union does not want to impose its type of socialism on anybody.

Khrushchev replied readily to a panel's questions on Soviet internal and external policies, but he added nothing new to the world's knowledge of Soviet aims. Almost everything he said was a repetition of what he or other Soviet leaders had said on previous occasions.

It was the Soviet Communist leader's first appearance on any formal television program and he came through it like a seasoned trouper. He appeared on the CBS "Face the Nation" program, which was filmed in his office in the Kremlin Tuesday.

Khrushchev made his prediction about a Socialist America in response to a question concerning competition of ideas.

Favors Healthy Competition

"We do want to compete with you, and in that competition we want to have the most healthy forces come into the forefront, and we believe that our socialist system represents the most healthy elements, because it is a younger system, the most healthy system," Khrushchev said. "And if you are acquainted with history and know how one social system was changed and another system took its place, you will know that the old capitalist system in our country has been replaced by the socialist system, and I can prophesy that your grandchildren in America will live under socialism."

"And please do not be afraid of that. Your grandchildren will not understand how their grandparents did not understand the progressive nature of a socialist society."

Khrushchev evidently decided against making the filmed interview a platform for any verbal bombshells. All the points he made repeated previous Soviet positions. Among the points:

Disarmament: The Russians are "quite prepared to limit ourselves to some small step, instead of going after a comprehensive agreement at once, so that a small step might lead to something bigger." But the U.S.S.R. already had made this position plain in the disarmament talks in London. It reversed a previous stand for comprehensive agreements.

Troop withdrawals: The Russians are willing to withdraw their troops from East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Romania if the West will withdraw foreign troops from their present bases. This, said Khrushchev, would be a "useful first step to test the good will of the two sides and to establish a good atmosphere which would not smell of war, but which would lead to good, friendly relations that could be brought about between our two countries."

He denied he feared the satellite countries would desert communism in the absence of Soviet troops.

War prospects: Khrushchev denied that a belief the United States is definitely planning war on the Soviet Union underlies all Soviet policies.

"That is not my view," Khrushchev said. "I simply repeated what your political leaders have been saying, and your generals, especially your admirals."

Highway Toll Below Normal

Authorities kept their fingers crossed Sunday as a mass homeward auto trek began after the long Memorial Day weekend. Officials hoped the exodus from beaches and other resort areas would not heavily boost figures for the highway death toll, now well below the usual four-day period.

The latest traffic death figure was 331—considerable less than the 405 fatalities which the National Safety Council in Chicago says is usual for this season in nonholiday periods from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

To date, drownings totaled 104 and other holiday-connected accidents took 85 lives.

The council made no estimate of traffic deaths for the long weekend, because many stores and offices reopened on Friday after the Thursday holiday.

Two Airmen Swept Away By Tex. Flood

DALLAS, June 2 (AP)—High water hit Texas from Lake Texoma to the north to the Rio Grande in the south today.

Tornadoes skipped around north Texas, but there were no injuries and apparently no property damage.

Two airmen apparently drowned at San Antonio when swept away by a raging creek. A head-on collision of two autos in a driving rain-storm near Haskell in western Texas killed four people.

Vance Favors of Quanah, supervisor of the Texas Highway Department's Upper Red River Valley area, said five spans of the Peace River Bridge fell into the river. The area is near the Texas-Oklahoma border to the north.

Cloudbursts in the watershed of the Upper Red River sent torrents downstream toward Lake Texoma. Water two feet deep poured over the spillway.

Almost 600 airline miles to the south the Rio Grande River on the Texas-Mexico border was rising. Unrestricted diversion of water was resumed on the Lower Rio Grande between Falcon Dam and Anzalduas Dam. The water pumped for irrigation will not be charged against the users' allotments.

Winds, rain and hail hit the Lower Rio Grande Valley last night. Brownsville, Weslaco and San Benito bore the brunt. Some flooding was reported in the San Benito area, which received some five to eight inches of rain.

A tornado touched the ground one mile northwest of Pottsboro in north-central Texas. A torrential rain accompanied the twister, but no property damage or injuries were reported. Several other tornadoes were reported in the north Texas area.

The Richland Hills area in Fort Worth was hit by rising water again Sunday. About 5 to 10 families were evacuated along Big Fossil Creek in Fort Worth.

Brownell Hails Ike Arms Plan

HAGERSTOWN, June 2 (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Brownell yesterday called President Eisenhower's plan for disarmament "the current and most promising road to peace."

In a commencement speech to 22 graduates at St. James School here, Brownell said peace must be the goal not only of diplomats and statesmen.

"It must be in our hearts," he told the graduates. "It must be striven for with the same unity of effort and resources as we give for war."

Brownell said compulsory military training, as necessary as it now is, "still seems out of place in the United States."

"But," he added, "the godless force of aggression facing this and other free nations requires American young people to dedicate some years of their lives to military pursuit."

"If all the people gave the same attention and national sacrifice to peace, we would soon have no occasion to be apprehensive toward war."

Naval Academy Graduates Told Faith Important

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 2 (AP)—Vice Adm. James L. Holloway told the Naval Academy's graduating class today that faith is "a most important ingredient in the life of any naval officer."

"Faith in God—faith in your calling and your cloth—faith in your seniors, your juniors, your coordinates," lays the foundation for a successful career and a useful and rewarding life, he said in a baccalaureate address.

The address was given in the academy's huge new field house, marking the first time in years that a baccalaureate service was not held in the academy chapel. The field house, recently completed, can accommodate crowds up to 10,000 and is being used for a number of June Week events including graduation next Friday.

Adm. Holloway, chief of Navy's Bureau of Personnel and former Academy superintendent, told the graduates that faith goes hand in hand with three other basic ingredients already given them:

1. Time—"to meet the innumerable challenges that are yours."

2. Opportunity—"The Navy is alive with opportunities—with challenge—with interests—with future. You will join, and contribute to, the greatest revolution in the history of naval development."

3. Knowledge—"the deep-rooted and proven education in which you have successfully attained within these gray walls of the Severn."

"All of these three are of 'small value unless you have the fourth—faith," he said.

"Now I know that faith is not something which one can pick up and carry out of Bancroft Hall, or from this new field house like a book or a diploma," he continued.

"It is not something that can be suddenly conjured to reality. If faith is not a part of your life already, leave room for it. Faith will grow from within—slowly, perhaps haltingly, with struggle."

Adm. Holloway, a 1918 graduate of the academy, told this year's seniors there was a time in his youth when lack of faith was fashionable.

"But two world wars and many smaller ones have proved its supreme value to me and to many other sailors," he said.

Baltimorean Held In Stray Bullet Death Of Girl, 10

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—A 28-year-old man was being held today in the shooting of a 10-year-old girl who was killed by a stray bullet in Northeast Baltimore last night.

The young Negro victim, Jacqueline Brown, was shot as she walked home from a grocery store where she had bought a loaf of bread moments earlier.

George Dwin, operator of a store, said the shooting followed an argument between a Negro man and woman who entered shortly after the girl left.

He said the woman picked up a chicken and asked the man to pay for it, but he refused.

"They started to leave the store," said Dwin, "and the man slapped the woman and she ran outside. He went after her and pulled out a pistol and fired one shot."

"The little girl was across the street. I saw her fall."

AMMAN, June 2 (AP)—The Jordan government announced today its anti-aircraft guns "went into action" against four Israeli planes which flew over Jordan territory.

The announcement said the planes were at 900 feet over the villages of Anin, Rumanah and Tinik, near the Jordan-Israel border.

State Government Study Group Planned

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin plans to appoint a new commission to make the most thorough study of Maryland's State government ever undertaken.

In disclosing plans for appointment of the study group, yesterday, the governor said:

"In a way, I am looking to the commission and its findings to be my heritage to the future."

The governor said he hoped to launch the commission with a $50,000 to $100,000 outlay "as a starter" toward its goal. The money, to be used for setting up a staff of outside consultants and specialists and for preliminary organization, would come from the contingency.

McKeldin expressed a hope the Legislature would appropriate additional funds.

Youth's Drowning Ruled Accidental

CENTREVILLE, Md., June 2 (AP)—The drowning of William Eugene Smallwood, 17-year-old foster son of industrialist R. J. Funkhouser, has been ruled accidental. The youth's body was recovered yesterday in eight feet of water off a dock at the Funkhouser estate on the Corsica River.

State Police said the Smallwood youngster and two other youths had been swimming off the dock early Saturday. His companions said they thought he had played a prank by leaving the water without telling them and had gone to bed. So they also left the water and retired.

Young Smallwood's body was found later in the morning. The medical examiner said the body had been in the water at least eight hours.

Bethany Grads Hear Nixon, Underwood

BETHANY, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—Vice President Nixon joined Gov. Underwood today in stressing for Bethany College's graduating class the nation's primary need for well-prepared young men and women.

Nixon, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree at Bethany's 116th annual commencement exercises, said that college graduates are in such demand that they often go to work at salaries higher than those of the faculty members who taught them.

In his prepared address, Underwood said that America needs men and women who "appreciate our Christian heritage," and he added that an America "which is strong will be a strong leader among nations of the world."

Oberlin institute, in Oberlin, O., became the first co-educational college in the United States. That was in 1833.

IS THE LUTHERAN CHURCH

"too catholic"?

Let's look at that word, "catholic."

It doesn't mean just one particular denomination. In fact, it means quite the opposite.

It comes from two Greek words—one meaning "down," the other meaning "whole." And that is precisely the Gospel: The downward movement of God for the whole human race—never the upward climb of a few humans who feel they can qualify!

In Christ: God comes down to us who have no way up to Him. In Scripture: God comes down to us who can know nothing of Him except whatever He chooses to reveal. In the Holy Communion: Christ comes down to bring forgiveness to us who can offer Him nothing except our guilt.

That is why the most catholic doctrine in the world is "justification by grace, through faith."

It means simply that God comes down and does everything that needs to be done. He has to, because we are helpless—because the very effort to save ourselves by our own "good works" is blasphemy, idolatry, arrogance, presumption, the very essence of sin.

Let God be God. That is the catholic faith.

Let Him be born in a stable for you! Let Him agonize on a Cross for you! Let Him forgive your sin simply because He wants to—not because but despite what you are and do! Let Him save you!

If you have not understood the catholicity of genuine Protestant faith, you owe it to yourself to find out the facts. Clip, fill in and mail the coupon.

Two Injured In Separate Car Crashes

William B. Wolford, 59, of Capon Bridge, W. Va. was in "good" condition at Winchester (Va.) Memorial Hospital last night with injuries sustained in a car crash on Memorial Day.

Another man, Eugene Francis Whitfield, 25, of Frostburg, who was admitted to Miners Hospital suffering injuries in an accident the same day, has been released from the hospital.

Sgt. W. F. Bowley, of the West Virginia State Police detachment at Romney, said Wolford was injured when he lost control of his car and rammed head-on into a tree at Capon Bridge.

Sgt. Bowley said the mishap occurred as Wolford was traveling northeast on the Cold Stream Road.

Hospital attaches said he sustained a compound fracture of the lower right leg, a laceration of his forehead, deep laceration of the right knee and lacerations of the jaw.

Sgt. Bowley said Wolford was traveling alone at the time of the accident.

Tic. Donald Wade and Trooper Donald Maddox of the Maryland State Police said Whitfield was injured in a three-car accident Thursday night in Eckhart.

Trooper Wade said Whitfield was traveling west on U. S. Route 40, near the Parkersburg Road, when he attempted to pass another car driven by Anthony V. Stucin, 39, of Eckhart.

The Whitfield vehicle, which attempted to pass Stucin on the right side, smashed into Stucin's car and rammed into a parked car owned by Edith Schulz, 53, of Wood Street, Frostburg.

Trooper Wade said Stucin was pulling out onto the highway when Whitfield passed him.

Burial Flag To Be Given

The presentation of the General Walter D. Smith burial flag to the Allegany County Historical Society will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. instead of today.

It was learned that Saturday would be a day more convenient for out-of-town relatives.

He captained the Academy's football team in 1900 and 1901. Picked by Gen. John J. Pershing as a member of his staff in Europe during World War I, the native Cumberlander had previously been chief quartermaster under Gen. George Goethals during the construction of the Panama Canal.

He died in 1955 at the age of 80 and is buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

Next Saturday's presentation at 218 Washington Street will be open to the public.

Today's Sermonette

Christ's face was one of suffering. It was more marred than any man. There were furrows there which age never plowed. Christ's face bore the unmistakable proof that His heart was often heavy with grief. He drew no veil over His agony and pain—though we had as it were our faces from Him; He was despised and we esteemed Him not. How often have our own hearts melted and our eyes filled with tears, as we realized afresh, "that it pleased the Lord to bruise him; He hath put him to grief—He hath laid upon Him the iniquity of us all."

Christ's face was a glorified face—radiant with victory over sin and triumph over death. In that glorified face we behold the promise of what we shall be, for we too shall enter into His glory and be like Him.

Pennsylvania Official Outlines Position On Route 40 In Federal Highway System

The position of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways concerning U. S. Route 40's future in regard to the federal interstate highway system has been outlined by Joseph J. Lawler, state secretary of highways, in a letter to the Fayette (Pa.) County Development Council.

Lawler, in a letter to Stewart G. Neel, executive vice president of the council, stated:

"U. S. Route 40 is considered part of the Interstate System from Baltimore to Hancock, Maryland. Traffic is then diverted to the Pennsylvania Turnpike, which is also part of the Interstate System from Breezewood to New Stanton. U. S. Route 40 again becomes part of the Interstate System from Washington Pennsylvania on westward.

"The Interstate System includes the Pennsylvania Turnpike as a major east-west artery through Pennsylvania. The responsibility for the designation of the Turnpike as an Interstate route lies with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The decision as to whether or not specific routes are to be included or placed on the Interstate System rests solely with the Bureau of Public Roads.

"A recommendation from the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to the Bureau of Public Roads that an additional section of U. S. Route 40 be placed on the Interstate System would, undoubtedly, not be considered by the bureau. The bureau of Public Roads has already stated that an Interstate route will not be constructed or designated when the route is parallel to a toll facility. The portion of U. S. Route 40 in which you are interested falls into this category.

"The Department of Highways is conducting, in accordance with Section 208 of the Federal Highways Act, which is known as a Needs Study of the Interstate Highway System of Pennsylvania. Other states are making similar studies. The purpose of this study is to determine the mileage of Interstate and National Defense needs.

"When this study has been completed and is reviewed by the Bureau of Public Roads, the bureau will then make recommendations to the Congress regarding additional mileage over and above that granted by the Federal Highway Act of 1956.

In the palm of your hand

—a way to keep prices from going higher

Living costs don't HAVE to keep on rising! You can help hold them down by saving an extra nickel out of every dollar.

ONE of the main causes of rising prices is overspending. If each of us will save only an extra nickel out of every dollar we earn we will put a strong brake on inflation.

For this will produce billions of dollars in savings—money which is urgently needed to finance more factories, homes and schools.

And, of course, you get a personal bonus from your extra savings—the feeling of independence and security that a growing nest egg brings... the feeling that your house is in order.

As a second step to fight inflation, all of us should support every reasonable move to reduce government spending—federal, state and local.

Sure, all this means a sacrifice. But isn't it worth it, if this means continuing our prosperity—and keeping it sound?

106 million policyholders have made life insurance America's most widely used form of thrift. In the interest of these policyholders—in the interest of all of us—the life insurance companies feel they have a duty to help preserve the purchasing power of the dollar.

Dave Beck And His Public Trust

Public office is a public trust. Americans have been repeating this phrase for about a century. Some public officials still act as if they had never heard of it, but the voters usually get their number before too much harm is done.

But the idea that private office is also a public trust when it involves large numbers of individuals has been slower to gain acceptance. Today bankers and insurance company officials take their trust seriously, but it was not always so in all instances. There were public fights, exposures and scandals before some fiduciary institutions abandoned practices which seem almost unthinkable now.

With this background, it is easier to get a proper perspective on what is happening in the labor movement as a result of Senate committee hearings. The evidence suggests that it never occurred to Dave Beck that the presidency of a large union should be considered a public trust.

The CIO and the AFL, while their leaders sometimes gave lip service to the principle, neglected to make it a requirement for member unions in good standing. Congress, fearing the power of the union moguls, did nothing.

But the current scandals of which Dave Beck has become the symbol are the handwriting on the wall for irresponsible union leaders. The AFL-CIO has been forced to take belated action.

More important, Congress is moving toward a sense of its own responsibility to require rank-and-file democracy and financial accountability for unions that seek to qualify for the services of the National Labor Relations Board and other forms of government aid to organized labor.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

What Do You Know?

The press agents of McCall's Magazine make quite a do-over the assumption Americans have strong opinions about Russia but are weak on their facts. They thereupon send along some pages of the magazine and want some free publicity which seems to be justified by the news of their data.

An important question asked is "What per cent (it should have been percentage in English) of the Russian people belong to the Communist Party?" It would appear that most Americans did not reply correctly from the standpoint of the editors of this magazine. What they wanted the people to say was "approximately 3 per cent." This is, of course, a nonsensical answer although it might be statistically correct. Statistics which often prove the obvious can also establish it as a fact that the obvious is idiotic.

To ask that question with sufficient accuracy in the wording to establish some meaning would be to use these phrases: "What percentage of the inhabitants of Soviet Russia accept the Marxist-Leninist doctrine as a control over their lives?" Nobody can answer that question, but it is the only one that matters. It would be as though one were to ask Americans whether they live by the tenets of Christianity without further definition.

The question asked by McCall's proves nothing even if 100 per cent of those replying gave 3 per cent as the answer. And for the following reasons:

1. The use of the term "Russian people" is incorrect. What is geographically termed Russia and often by such writers as myself inaccurately by habit as Soviet Russia is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) consisting of perhaps as many as 100 races and peoples, some, like the Daurians, being so vestigial as to be on the verge of disappearance; others such as the Uzbeks and Mongols being very aggressive and vivid and developing new cultures out of old traditions.

2. The Communist Party is a small, monopolistic group which dominates all peoples inside of geographic Russia and among the satellites and holds the people's power as a substitute for the dictatorship of the proletariat which the Marxists expected to establish but could not. The party is in no Western sense a political party at all, consisting principally of the top echelons of administration, men and women who are dependent for their jobs and benefits (which are enormous) upon those who are in the Politburo (now the Presidium) and who run the country under a dictator, the Secretary of the Party, who used to be Stalin and is now Khrushchev.

The question in McCall's and the summary of answers therefore make no sense. Now we come to another question: "About how long has Russia been a communist country?" Various answers are given to this question. The editors of the magazine answer it this way:

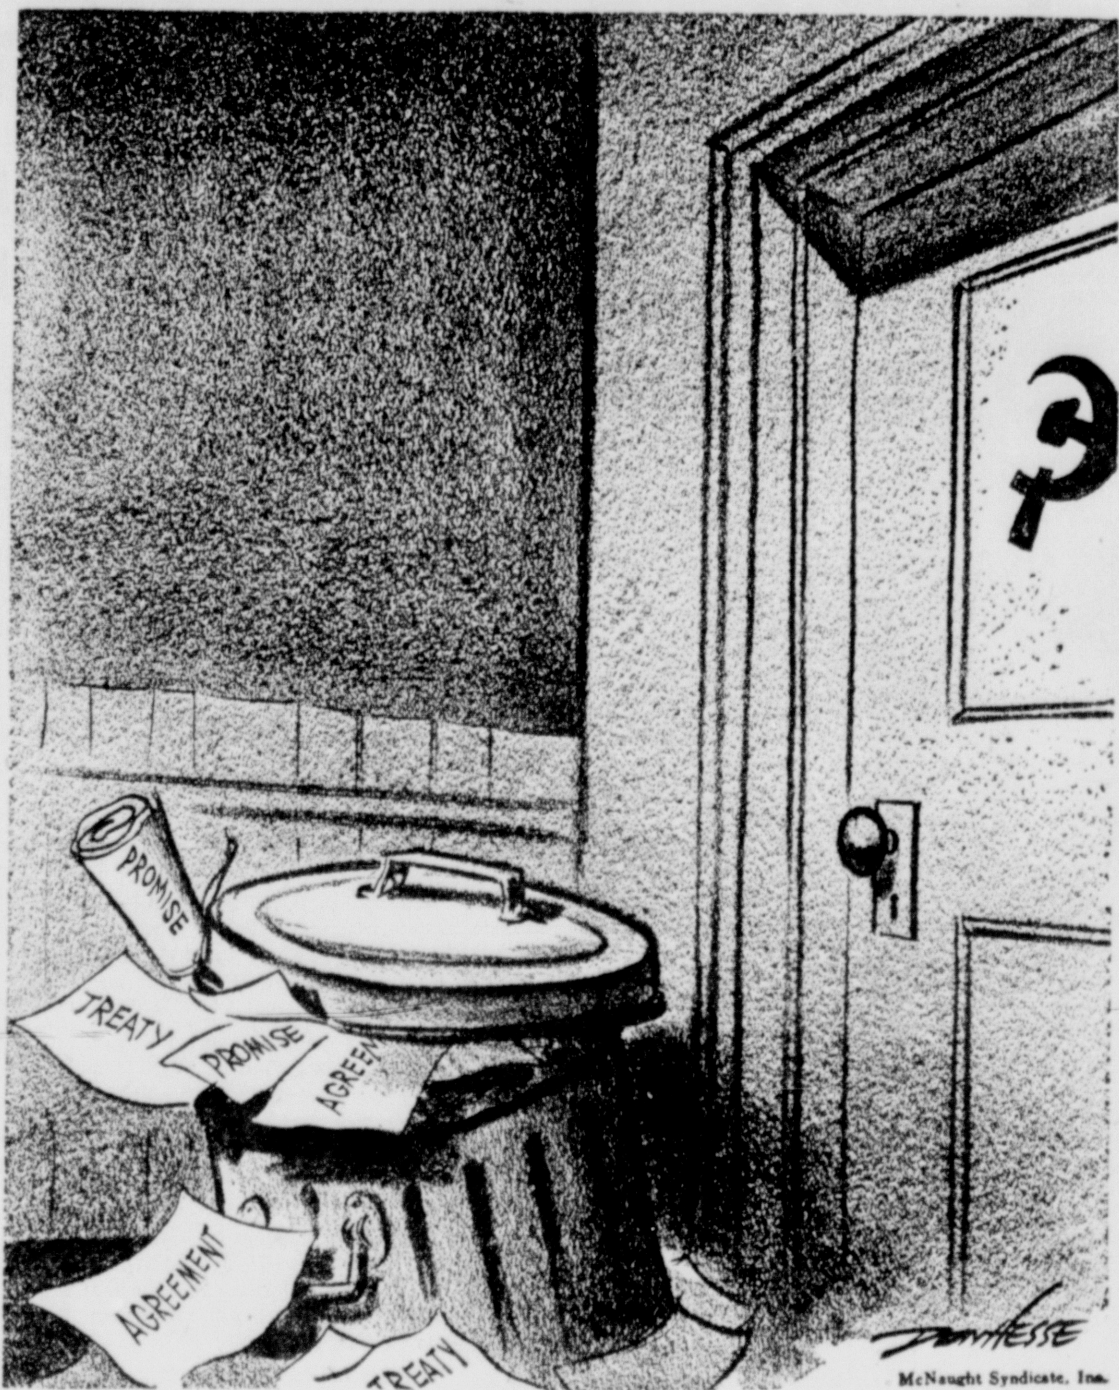

"... Actually, this year the Soviet Government celebrates its fortieth anniversary." This is, I assume, to give the impression that Russia has been a communist country for 40 years although it ducks the fundamental question neatly.

That answer is incorrect. What it means to say is that it is 40 years since the October Revolution placed Lenin and his associates in power. No one in authority in the Russian Government has ever claimed that Russia is a communist country. They say that Russia is the first socialist country, that the means of production, distribution and exchange are owned by the government, that finance capital has been extirpated, although some small phases of private capital are tolerated, such as recognized black market operations. Communism involves not government-ownership but the people's control and actually under Communism, the government should begin to wither away and in the end disappear as an unnecessary institution along with religion, racial and national differences.

The California woman who was questioned by the McCall interviewers about Communists in Russia and answered "I don't know how many there are, but it's far too many," undoubtedly gave the correct answer to all the questions from the American standpoint. Certainly the editors who criticized Americans for too many opinions and too few facts studied their facts like someone on one of the quiz programs who knows the answer in the book, but not what it means. Alas, that is so often true and it is also true that on occasion an opinion is worth more than an isolated fact. Vide Aristotle!

Disarmament Agreement Next?

Disarmament Plans And The New Germany

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The skeptical and the credulous can read today the official communique issued after President Eisenhower's conference with Chancellor Adenauer, and both sets of observers can still wonder whether reunification of Germany will be realized after an "initial" agreement with the Soviet Union on disarmament.

Obviously the German Chancellor came here worried. Would the American government throw away its trump card—nuclear defense of Europe—without getting so much as an agreement that would enable East and West Germany to be combined under a single government of freedom? President Eisenhower endeavored in his public communique, and so did Secretary of State Dulles in his personal conferences, to assure the German Chancellor that America did not intend to abandon West Germany or forget its aspiration for unity with East Germany.

But America wants to get on with the disarmament negotiations in order to assure the whole world that the United States presents no obstacle to the realization of the desire of mankind for an avoidance of nuclear war.

The United States has had indications that the men in the Kremlin want to reach an agreement on some phases of disarmament. The Western powers, however, have felt they could not be in the position of blocking even a modicum of progress. The position of the American government here is that risks must be incurred in the initial stages but that no step need be taken which can jeopardize the safety or the defensive strength of the West.

To accomplish both objectives—that is, to forward the cause of disarmament and at the same time not to prejudice the position of Chancellor Adenauer, who has an election coming up soon—the Washington conference has come to a fruitful result. A four-power conference on reunification of Germany will be held after the "initial" phase of the disarmament discussions has been completed. A public pledge is thus given which is notice to the Soviet Union that, if its rulers are merely looking for a "breathing spell"—so as to concentrate on domestic affairs—and wish to ignore German reunification, the American government will not let Moscow forget the issue.

Word has come from authoritative sources that the Soviet rulers will never negotiate on reunification of Germany. But this may not be entirely within their own discretion. They have the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to reckon with every day. The United States and the Western Powers are not going to be fooled by any disarmament game.

Mere reduction in the size or quantity of weapons does not remove the basic causes of war nor does it relieve tension except temporarily.

The official communique makes the point that the realization of conditions of peace and freedom "depends upon the removal of the causes of tension existing between the Soviet Union and the free world" and that this tension "is mainly attributable to the acts and policies of the Soviet Union, among them the deprivation of other peoples of their freedom."

Noting the "brutal Soviet intervention in Hungary," the President and Chancellor Adenauer said that the "continued suppression of the rights of the Hungarian people makes it difficult for other nations to accept as genuine the professed Soviet de-

Baering Down On The News

Problem in automation is as simple as twice simon.

Will the mechanical dummy take the place of the human one?

That's about as mooting a subject as we've had this semester. Is it possible to make rope untouched by human necks?

Is it possible to discard the theory of fallible fingers in favor of the directive thumb? There is nothing modern in automation. Back in 1672 Ephraim Totter of Mauch Chunk built a perpetual motion machine combining the worst features of palsy and flapping window shades.

It was an instant success but no longer. It lasted long enough to bring automation into Webster's greedy memory. Today the bank of Lower California has an electric computer that numbers each check, guesses your weight, warns the accounting department of insufficient residue, takes your corpulence statistics and rings a burglar alarm.

This not only puts men in the breadline but also computes their future in crumbs.

The automaton does not think and has no opinion west of the decimal point. But it can tell what you're thinking and where you left your umbrella.

Our future in the year 2000 depends on whether the automaton likes round numbers. By that time even the big print will be too fine.

Lidice Memorial In Illinois Now Serves As Baseball Backstop

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The nation last week placed wreaths on the graves of heroes who fought for freedom.

Out near Joliet, Ill., there is a backstop for a baseball diamond. Once it was a monument to those who died for freedom. Once Wendell Willkie, candidate for president, dedicated it. Millions of Americans acclaimed it. News reels and newspapers featured it.

It was a monument to 173 Czechs murdered by Hitler. They had rebelled for freedom. In 1942, shortly after Pearl Harbor, the people in the little Czech village of Lidice had given shelter to other Czechs who had killed Reinhard Heydrich, the Gestapo deputy chief, the hangman of Nazi-occupied Czechoslovakia.

In revenge, every man in the village of Lidice was rounded up by Hitler's SS Elite Corps. There were 173 of them. Troops surrounded the village, cut off all roads, and then moved in. Women and children were piled into trucks and carted off to concentration camps. "Educational institutions," the Nazis called them. The 173 men were lined up before a wall and shot. The village of Lidice was wiped out.

The free world revolted against that massacre. In America, the late Gael Sullivan proposed naming a new housing development near Joliet, Ill., "Lidice." Wendell Willkie, who came to dedicate it, said:

"This is a symbol of freedom we have sworn to remember." Franklin Roosevelt telegraphed from the White House:

"On June 30 the Nazi government announced the murder of a word — Lidice... in the United States we have adopted that word. The name and town Lidice now becomes an everlasting reminder... of human freedom."

But the other day a Czech refugee, Charles Burian, who survived Hitler and escaped the Communists, went to Lidice, Ill. That word had been stamped on the minds and hearts of freedom-loving Czechs. They remembered the Hitler massacre. They remembered the pledge of Willkie and Roosevelt—"an everlasting reminder of freedom."

But in Lidice, Ill., he found that reminder serving as a baseball backstop. Around its base were not wreaths, but cigarette butts and waste paper.

And the youngsters who stepped up to bat had no idea that a few feet away stood a monument to 173 heroes—heroes who were shot so that youngsters far away in another country could play baseball in freedom.

Brooklynite Didn't Dodge

Congresswoman Edna Kelly (D., N.Y.) had an unpublishable brush with Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Mikoyan the other day while both happened to be staying at the Ambassador Krantz Hotel in Vienna.

Mrs. Kelly was in Austria studying the Hungarian refugee problem. Mikoyan had been sent by the Kremlin to woo the Austrians.

One evening, Mrs. Kelly stepped into the hotel's telephone booth-sized elevator just as Mikoyan's party arrived. The hotel manager, obeisant before Mikoyan, beckoned to Mrs. Kelly to vacate the elevator and make room for the Soviet big shot.

Mrs. Kelly firmly stood her ground. "I'm sorry! I'm sorry!" she said. Then turning to the elevator operator, she ordered: "You take me to the third floor."

Mikoyan was flustered for a moment, then shrugged and walked up the stairs while the Congresswoman from Brooklyn rode.

Government Scientists And H-Bomb

Government scientists who tried to circulate a petition against continued H-bomb tests suddenly found their constitutional right of free petition yanked from under them at the National Institutes of Health last week.

About half of the scientists and medical experts at the Health Institutes, a government agency at Bethesda, Md., had signed the petition when suddenly Dr. Francis Arnold, a dentist working with the Institute of Dental Research, seized it. He refused to return the petition or the ground that it was being circulated on government property and on government time.

This aroused a terrific backstage furor at the Health Institutes, where many scientists have seen how strontium 90 is H-bomb fallout increases leukemia and other forms of cancer. Many doctors also felt strongly regarding the Eisenhower position taken last fall against Adlai Stevenson's proposal to ban H-bomb tests—if Russia would agree.

Dr. Arnold was not available for comment. However, Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Health Institutes, confirmed the fact that the petition had been confiscated by Dr. Arnold and that it had not been returned. He said he had supported Dr. Arnold's confiscation of the petition because government scientists should not be allowed to circulate a political petition.

Asked whether scientists lost the power of engaging in politics merely because they worked for the government, Dr. Shannon retorted somewhat. He said he was in a delicate position, but that he would return the petition to the scientists if they agreed to circulate it only in their homes and not on government property. Dr. Shannon did not mention the Eisenhower-Stevenson debate last fall regarding the banning of H-bomb tests.

Washington Pipeline

Disarmament Negotiator Harold Stassen has full authority to limit, but not abolish, H-bomb tests. President Eisenhower instructed Stassen to meet the Russians half way on the problem of curbing nuclear tests...

The American embassy has reported that Communist Chief Khrushchev is now in full control of the Kremlin. He suffered a setback after the Hungarian revolution, but the embassy claims Khrushchev has restored himself as Russia's backstage dictator... White House Aide Gabriel Hague, who wrote some of the president's budget speeches, tried them out in advance on his own audiences. The material that went over in his speeches he later incorporated into the president's speeches... Ike has complained privately that his real trouble with Congress is caused by the 22nd amendment which limits presidents to only two terms... Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson has urged Senate conferees to fight for the biggest possible budget cuts in ironing out differences with the House. He told them privately that the voters are demanding budget cuts and the Senate should share the credit for them. He is tired, he said, of the Senate restoring cuts made by the House.

James Gleason, the justly distinguished disciple of Thespis, is opposed to ending a telephone call by saying, "Good-bye." He thinks it is too final and can at times inspire depressing thoughts. The French end a phone call with "Adieu" and the Spanish with "Adios." We should have something similar, I agree with Mr. Gleason. However, all I can think of offhand is to end the call with "So long." But that's not my final selection. Give me a little time to think it over.

NAME KNOWN TO FAME The maiden name of George Washington's mother was, as you know, Mary Ball. Considering the comparatively few people having the surname Ball, it is interesting to note the unusual number who have achieved fame. To point out a few examples. There was John Ball, the great British golfer, the first player to win both the British Amateur and Open Championships the same year. Then there was the American sculptor, Thomas Ball. Also Ernest Ball, the brilliant composer who wrote "Love Me And The World Is Mine," "Moth-er Machree" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." And Neal Ball, Cleveland shortstop, who made the first unassisted triple play in major league history. Then, last but most certainly not least, that extremely talented and versatile actress, Lucille Ball.

The Nine Basic Categories Of Man's Diseases

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

I have never had the time nor the inclination to count the number of diseases but the total runs into the thousands. There are fewer causes. In general, they fall into nine basic categories:

Congenital malformations have their origin long before birth, especially during the first three months of pregnancy. Something happens during this period to alter the development of the body's various organs or tissues. German measles during the first trimester of pregnancy is the main source of such malformations.

Nowadays infections cause fewer diseases than in the past. The various micro-organisms include viruses, rickettsia, spirochetes, fungi, protozoa, and worms but bacteria constitute the major culprits. Some germs product damage by invading the tissues; others poison the system by manufacturing toxins.

There are a variety of tumors. Some, such as the wart, are benign; others are cancerous.

The body is affected also by a variety of physical agents. Cold freezes and heat burns. The extremities are easily frozen by low temperatures, whereas with high readings, the individual may suffer from sunburn or heat stroke or exhaustion. Some individuals are overly sensitive to light. Radiation from the sun reddens the skin and rays from an atomic explosion have a general as well as a local effect on the system. The same can be said of too much X-ray exposure.

Chemical agents poison in a number of ways. Carbon tetrachloride and arsenic damage the liver and kidneys; lead injures the stomach, intestines, kidneys, bones, and nerves.

Accidents are third on the list of causes of death. Emotional stress is the factor behind many psychiatric and neurological diseases. Metabolic or endocrine disorders are responsible for diabetes, gout, goiter, and other glandular conditions.

Food also may lead to disease. Too many calories encourage obesity; not enough results in starvation. Nutritional deficiencies, such as anemia, stem from a shortage of iron, and scurvy from vitamin C deprivation.

Mt. Savage's Old Germans smashed the eight-game winning streak of the Hyndman Merchants yesterday at Mt. Savage and handed the Pen-Mar Baseball League leaders their first defeat of the season before approximately 350 spectators. The score was 6-1.

Tommy Lewis pitched the Old Germans within a game of first place by limiting the Pennsylvanians to seven as Mt. Savage chalked up its third straight triumph. Lewis made his record for the season 5-0. His previous wins were over Centerville, 5-4; Zihlman 7-3, Flintstone 8-5 and Grantsville 6-6.

Carl May, who started on the rubber for Hyndman, and was supplanted by Merle Kirchner in the 7th, was tagged with the loss.

Johnson Raps Homer

Mt. Savage racked up 15 hits, including a two-run homer in the first inning and a triple and single by Kenny Johnson of Midland. Vince King and Joe Scarpelli had a double and two singles each. Lewis blasted a triple and single and Ronald "Butch" Young had a pair of one-base knocks for the Old G's. Clay Leydig paced Hyndman with a three-base belt and two singles.

A running catch by Arch Lennox on Lew Hite's drive to deep centerfield in the 8th inning and second baseman "Butch" Young's catch of a liner from Clay Leydig's bat in the 9th frame were the fielding highlights.

Old G's Thumped, 13-5

Grantsville's Sluggers dropped the Barreille Old Germans into third place by handing the 1956 champs a 13-5 thumping at Barreille. The Garrett countians put the game on ice in the sixth inning by scoring six runs in a grouping five hits with two walks after trailing 3-0. During the uprising Jim McGregor was driven to cover and charged with the loss. Ronnie Sisk finished on the peak for the Old Exports.

Lynn Kitzmiller went the route for Grantsville, granting nine hits and yielding the five runs in the first and ninth innings.

John Keister headed the winners' 13-hit assault with four blows and Junie Perry banged a double and two singles after striking out in his first three trips to the plate. George McGregor, Stickley and Horward had two hits each for Barreille.

Dunn Leads Attack

Paced by Tommy Dunn, who hammered a home run and two singles and batted in four runs, Zihlman rode to a 10-7 triumph over Wellersburg at Zihlman.

The 14-hit attack included two hits each by "Chuck" Ehrich and Harold Hudson. The latter had a pair of two-baggers, and Ehrich, Barney Spearman and Skidmore also lapped doubles. Spearman yielded seven hits, three by Ronnie Neubiser and two by "Sonny" Glass.

Lose Ninth Straight

Centerville's Reds handed the Flintstone Farmers their ninth consecutive loss at Flintstone by the score of 9-7.

The Pennsylvanians held a 9-0 lead in the 7th, then replaced Glenn Deremer with Roy Reed on the rubber. Reed was pounded for seven runs and retired only one batsman before Deremer came back to finish on the mound to get credit for his fourth victory against three losses.

David Rose smacked a two-bagger and two singles and Manager Mel Nee and Deremer had two safeties each for Centerville. Bill Haberlein clouted a double and two singles and Don Hudson and Harry Haberlein each hit safely twice for Flintstone.

Kansas City Trips Tribe

Scores Six In 6th, Tops Cleveland, 8-2

KANSAS CITY, June 2 (AP) — Vic Power broke a 19-inning Kansas City scoring famine with a sixth-inning homer and his teammates went wild for 6 runs in the eighth today as the Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians 8-2.

The victory went to Mickey McDermott, who held the Indians to 1 hit in the final two frames after Alex Kellner had scattered 4 hits in 7 innings. The A's won the 3-game series, 2-1.

The loser was Ray Narleski, the Indians' ace reliever, who was nipped for all 6 A's hits and runs in the wild eighth inning. Mike Garcia had yielded 9 hits, but the score was tied 2-2 when he left after the seventh inning.

Lou Skizas opened the eighth with a single and was moved to second on a sacrifice. Johnny Groth singled between Narleski's legs into center field to score Skizas.

Hector Lopez singled, McDermott fanned and Billy Hunter singled to score Groth with the second run. Joe DeMaestri singled home Lopez and then Power was given an intentional walk to fill the bases. Bob Cerv followed with a triple to center.

Don Mossi replaced Narleski and retired Skizas to end the inning. Totals: 29-24-11. Totals: 37-27-12.

Ralph Terry Halts Yanks' Loss Streak

Posts 4-0 Triumph, Birds Bag 1st, 3-2

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Rookie Ralph Terry, making his first start of the season, pitched a three hit 4-0 shutout in the second game against Baltimore to give the New York Yankees a split in their doubleheader today. The Orioles won the opener 3-2 for their third in a row over the defending world champions.

The Yankees scored all their runs in the first inning when they clubbed starter Skinny Brown for three home runs. Mickey Mantle slammed his 11th after a leadoff walk to Hank Bauer, and Yogi Berra and Elston Howard followed with four-base blows.

Terry, who had a record of 1-2 in three uncompleted games with the Yankees last season, walked four and struck out four as he went the distance. He did not permit a batter to reach base from the fourth inning, when he walked leadoff batter Bob Niemann, until the ninth when Billy Gardner opened with his second hit, a single.

Wight, who started with an 0-2 record, stopped the Yankee power completely in the opener. He did not allow a hit after the fifth inning and was master all the way.

The Orioles broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth to hang the first defeat of the year on Art Dittmar, Gardner, who won yesterday's game with a home run, opened the inning with a single and went to third on a double by Pilarcik. George Kell grounded out and Gardner crossed the plate with the winning run.

Bob Purkey Blanks Giants, 2-0, As Pirates Take Pair

Mays' Long Hit Streak Is Stopped

Ends At 21 Games; Ronnie Kline Wins Opening Game, 3-2

PITTSBURGH, June 2 (AP)—Bob Purkey shut out the New York Giants and halted Willie Mays' consecutive 21-game hitting streak today as he pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 2-0 victory in the second game of a doubleheader. The Pirates won the first game 3-2.

Purkey allowed only 4 hits and he set the Giants down in order in six of the innings. He got into trouble in the seventh and eighth innings but pitched out both times.

It was the first time this season the Pirates had won a doubleheader.

It was Purkey's fourth victory against three defeats. He fanned three—one in the crucial eighth with two on.

Mays, who had hit safely in the first game to equal his consecutive game hitting streak of 1954, went hitless in four times at bat.

Ronnie Kline had to have some ninth inning assistance from Pirate relief pitcher Luis Arroyo to save a 3-2 Pirate victory in the first game and chalk up his initial victory of the season.

Arroyo came on with two on and one out. He fanned the first batter and got Schoendienst to hit into a forced out to retire the side.

Johnson Rescues Buhl In 3-1 Game

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 2 (AP)—Ernie Johnson rescued Bob Buhl in the ninth inning today to preserve a 3-1 victory for the Milwaukee Braves over the St. Louis Cardinals before 34,589 at County Stadium.

Johnson entered the game with the tying runs on base and retired the side by pitching a double play ball to pinchhitter Walker Cooper and striking out Don Blasingame. Bob Thomson drove in the winning runs in the third inning.

Johnson took over from Buhl after the first two Cardinals had walked in the ninth inning.

Buhl, who allowed eight hits in his eight inning term, received credit for his fourth victory against one defeat. He had a shut-out until the eighth, when the Cards got their only run on Blasingame's single, Stan Musial's double and Wally Moon's sacrifice fly.

Phillies Have That 1950 Look As Several Rookies Make Good

By FRANK ECK AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

"Don't sell the Phillies short," President Bob Carpenter of Philadelphia's lone entry in the major leagues was saying during spring training at Clearwater. "I know everybody keeps saying we are thin after Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Harvey Haddix, Stan Lopata and Richie Ashburn.

Just don't bet on it. It's also true we have come up with only one real good rookie since we won the National League pennant in 1950. That was Jack Meyer who produced for us in 1955 as a rookie relief pitcher.

"We just don't know when our farm players are going to produce, but we're hoping. We have no way of knowing for sure when the Bouchees, Bowmans, Sanfords, Cardwells and Andersons will be ready. Our farm team reports on these boys are astounding. We just hope they produce this year."

Well, after the first month of the season it looks like Carpenter and his Phillies will be causing some trouble in the National League race this season.

Manager Mayo Smith opened the season with Ed Bouchee on first base and Bob Bowman in right field. At last look they were still in the lineup and carrying big bats.

Jack Sanford was the first rookie to pitch three victories and young slugger Harry Anderson, just out of Class A ball, showed that he could hit for distance. Don Cardwell pitched his way to the team with a string of 17 scoreless innings.

With such a collection of freshmen talent the Phillies can again be called the Whiz Kids. They might even have the rookie of the year in the league in one of the new members.

Bouchee, 24, hit .344 in his first 15 games. He hit 17 homers and had 94 runs batted in while batting .296 for Miami, Fla., in 1956. Now thinner than a year ago, this ex-Army cook seems to have reached maturity. At least he'll be playing until opposing pitchers find his hitting weakness—if he has one.

Bowman, 26, has been highly regarded for years by the Quaker City front office. He hit .278 with 18 homers and 81 RBI's for Miami last year and seems on his way. The impressive thing about Bowman is his fielding and his strong throwing arm. He plays right field and even the champion Dodgers have learned to respect his arm. Twice he has cut down Dodgers trying to go from first to third on base hits to right.

Sanford, 27, is an Army returnee. He won his first start last fall and his third win this young season was a four-hitter and 17 strikeouts against the lowly Chicago Cubs.

Cardwell, 22, recently beat Milwaukee, 2-1, and fanned nine after blanking the Giants. With Miami last year he was 15-7 with four shutouts and a 2.85 earned run record.

Anderson, 25, was a first baseman but the Phillie brass converted him to the outfield and in recent games he was doing a fine left field job. In 88 games he hit .235 for Schenectady, N. Y., in 1956 but he showed power with 13 homers and 48 runs batted in. Almost half of his 74 hits went for extra bases. Like Sanford, he is a service returnee.

So if the Phillies crowd the first division teams this season, ami last year and seems on his one, two and maybe three rook-

STUTTGART, Germany, June 2 (AP)—Archie Moore, the world's light heavyweight champion, tonight knocked out Belgian heavy weight champion Alain Cherville in the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round heavy-weight bout at the Exhibition Hall Arena.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 2 (INS)—John Wayne, who has been having his troubles with "Legend of The Lost" getting it properly edited and cut in Rome, has agreed to star in "The Townsend Harris Story."

Duke talked with John Huston and liked the idea so much about the United States first consul to Japan that he said he would make it in September, even though it takes him to Tokyo on location.

I don't know anyone who has a more colorful life than Greer Garson. She telephoned from New York after she agreed to do "Auntie Mame" on Broadway, replacing Roz Russell in early 1958, that she and her mother were headed for Dallas. Her husband's, Buddy Fogelson's son, graduates from Southern Methodist College there.

Later Greer and her mother head back for Hollywood where she has two TV shows awaiting her. She'll play herself in Robert Young's "Father Knows Best," and she's also agreed to go on the panel show, "The Last Word."

Greer said she loved the Auntie Mame story from the time she first read the book and when she saw Roz on the stage she was completely sold.

Immediately after the verdict finding her husband, Arthur Miller, guilty on two counts, Marilyn Monroe and Miller went to the country. Marilyn refused to see or talk to anyone.

The verdict, which calls for a year in prison and a fine of $100,000 is a tragic blow to Marilyn, who had been holding up her answer to 20th Century-Fox on whether or not she would do "The Life of Jean Harlow" until her husband's case was decided.

We who love Marilyn can only be sorry that she is so unlucky in love.

Portie Mason almost didn't make "Circle Of The Day" on Playhouse 90. She had felt ill all during rehearsals Wednesday, and Natalie Wood's little sister Lana, was called in to pinch-hit, just in case.

However, Portie rallied and was able to make the show—very fortunately, too, because Lana came down with chicken pox!

Then, while she was emoting, Portie started feeling sick again—and you guessed it—she, too, had chicken pox!

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Don't be surprised if Jeffrey Hunter gets married this week in Cedar Rapids. He is flying there to meet Dusty Bartlett's family.

While Joan Marshall was in the final scene of a screen test at MGM a telephone call came for her that her two year old daughter Sherry had swallowed sixteen sleeping pills. Joan got home in nothing flat, took the little girl to the Children's Hospital and took a rain check on the rest of the test.

Call Bill Gargan "Grandpa" and pretty Mary Gargan "Grandma." Their daughter presented them with Bill III, at the UCLA Medical Center.

Jorge Guinle is here to invite one of our stars to the Jockey Club race in Rio in August. Susan Hayward was the guest of honor last year and had a wonderful time.

I was very comfortable in the directors room at Hollywood Park, as the guest of Kitty and Mervyn Le Roy. Kitty and I didn't have any luck, but we had a good time playing long shots.

Their other guests were attorney Arnold Grant, and Marge and Dick Damman. In the 70,000 faces, I saw Irene Dunne with a group of friends, Jimmy Durante, Vic Damone, Benny Thau with Sol Siegel, Joseph Schenck with Buddy Adler, Charlie Feldman and Charlie's pretty French actress girl friend.

Leonard Goldenson, of ABC-TV, has issued an invitation to luncheon on Wednesday, saying he has a big story to disclose. Wonder if it isn't pay TV?

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Group Favors Man For LaVale Audit Work

Willard R. Engle, secretary-treasurer of the LaVale Sanitary Commission, wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners on Friday recommending that James P. Rogers, a certified public accountant, be approved to make an audit of the LaVale unit's books.

The board also received an application from Kenneth H. Robertson, 1821 Frederick Street, for a position either as a member of the County Civil Service Commission or a clerk to the commission when these appointments are made. He said he has 21 years office experience.

Here's the scheme for every bride who wants to be a vision of loveliness at her wedding.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Prepare For Your Wedding Day

This is the first of six columns for the favorite lass of the season—the bride-to-be.

The reality of her wedding day will surpass her dream—if she'll just skip a little dreaming and do a little scheming!

Early Assembly

For a flying start, select your attire well in advance of THE day. Whether you wear a traditional gown or a memorable daytime costume, the moment you make your choice, select all complementary details—lingerie, stockings, slippers, gloves, etc. Then there'll be no eleventh-hour mishaps, such as a glove appearing too white against a creamy gown or a wrinking slip under a snugly fitted sheath.

As soon as you have chosen your cap or hat, settle on the most fetching hair style for you and have your tresses shaped and set in that style at least two days beforehand to achieve that soft, natural look.

Next, make sure your wedding cosmetics blends with your color and your attire. Foundation and powder should make your skin appear as fair or fairer than your apparel's principal color.

Your lipstick must be indelible and of a delicate, feminine shade.

Loveliness Assured

Rehearse every phase of your bridal beauty, and your wedding perfection will grow with each run-through. Whether the aisle is to be long or short, don't overlook your walk. Put your wedding slippers on and slow-glide around the room to practice.

Fashion a paper bouquet and practice holding it lightly and posing it so skillfully that it blankets neither your hand nor your dress.

These loveliness skills and the radiance of your happiness is sure to impart will work the magic you dream of—you'll be a true "vision of delight" on your wedding day.

Tomorrow: Your Wedding Gown

State Is Requested To Help Pay Cost

Somerville Nicholson, supervisor of assessments for Allegany County, told the county commissioners on Friday that he has requested the State Tax Commission to pay for one-half of the expense of purchasing new equipment for the Assessing Department here.

The county is making available additional space for Nicholson's department and new office furniture will be needed.

The commissioners approved the form of bids on painting of the entire first floor interior of the Court House. The painting is being done in conjunction with changes in the clerk of Circuit Court's office and also in the Assessing and Finance Departments.

Are you planning a
PRE-FAB
OR PRE-CUT HOME

If so, we know that you will be very pleased when you hear our "Home Planning Program." It has been our experience that frequently we can save you many dollars and a great deal of hard-ship by supplying material out of our yard rather than from a pre-fab factory. The advantage of dealing with a home-town lumber yard are many! You can be sure of Quality and know that we will be here to make any adjustments on material shortages. Our future depends upon your satisfaction and our prices are as low or lower in many cases than those of our "pre-fab" competitors. If you will give us the opportunity to quote on the same material lists and specifications that you would be receiving with your pre-fab, we are confident that we can save you many dollars.
